

Sunday 7th April 06:30-08:00 Dawn Chorus Walk at Battle Cemetery.

A special early morning guided walk around the cemetery to listen to the early birds of the dawn chorus. Sussex naturalist Michael Blencowe will help us identify which birds are singing and why. Then we'll head inside for refreshment while we listen to a short illustrated talk all about birdsong by Michael.

Saturday 13 July 14:00-16:00 Butterfly Walk at Battle Cemetery

Join us for a summer afternoon walk around the cemetery led by Sussex naturalist Michael Blencowe looking for our resident butterflies. Learn all about the browns, blues, skippers and admirals (and other wildlife) that call the cemetery their home.

Friday 20th September 18:30-20:30 Bat Night at Battle Cemetery

As the sun sets, the bats of Battle take to the skies. We'll start this special evening event with a short talk all about our local bats. We'll then head out with bat detectors to look (and listen) for these amazing creatures.
Please bring a torch.
